Intemperance.

We have no particular desire to set up as and advocate of total abstinence, though, to use a trite saying, we might be in worse business, but the deplorable state of things existing in this community on account of intemperance deserves a passing notice. It is a fact too well established to require any argument from us, in this enlightened age, that the intemperate indulgence in spirituous liquors, is the great source and beginning of almost every crime. The worst feature in the case is that none or scarcely any, save the best and most generous of men, become confirmed inebriates. It is almost impossible from the very nature of things for little, pusilanimous and stingy natures to become drunkards. The men who are our midnight brawlers would be our most shining lights in society were it not for the debasing effects of habitual intoxication, and their generous hearts accompanied with the manly benevolence that is always bestowed upon such natures would make under other circumstances the crowning gems of the social world.

The man under the influence of the cup spends time and talent at the tap-room, degrading and brutalizing himself until his better nature departs, and from thence he is ejected into the streets to go home to a suffering and neglected family. Worse than this is it when the silence of the midnight is broken by the wailing cry of the woman he has sworn to honor and protect, while the heavy blows of his hand, as the fiendish spirit aroused in him, bruises the shrieking and helpless victim. The seemingly frail tenure of the matrimonial tie in Colorado that has been facetiously accounted for by "lightness of air, etc.," if applied to its real cause, will be often found to arise from neglect of home duties, occasioned by the almost constant attendance of husbands and fathers at the dram shop.

Nor is the poverty, the suffering, the neglect of duty, and debasement of the victims all that is to be complained of. Our physicians and the friends of the deceased adult males of this country, in that good and forgiving spirit that always governs true humanity, which covers up all the faults and would only show to the world the virtue and goodness of the departed, do not breathe the real cause of the death of at least one third of our grown up male population. There is a repugnance to the sentence "Died of intemperance," and the suppression of it is only and expression of christian charity and love. As such we honor them for so doing, and we would not write of this painful subject save for the hope that some may take thought and assume that self-government necessary to save them from a like wretched doom—the drunkard's grave. We have stated only facts as we actually know them in the foregoing, and have not overdrawn in any particular. The drugged poisons that the market is now flooded with under the name of various liquors is rapidly destroying those that habitually use them, and any movement that will stay the progress of this demon of intemperance is true philanthropy.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 8, 1865

Social Life in Utah.

There is no better standard of judging concerning the merits of any system of morals or religion, recommended to the world for adoption, than to observe its effects upon the lives and manners of those who profess to be governed by it. Now it is true that, in every sect or denomination that has ever risen, bad men and hypocrites, who would bring forth disgrace on any cause with which they were connected, have contrived to creep in. It would be unfair, of course, to judge any system by such adherents as these. The best standard should always be taken as exponents, for these may fairly be presumed to illustrate the merits as well as the defects of whatever they profess. Now, if the doctrines and creeds taught by Brigham Young and colleagues be judged by the standard laid down, we think, in more than one particular, their inferiority must be apparent to all.

We lay aside, for the present, the grave and horrid crimes which have been so often and truthfully charged upon the Mormon Church of Utah, and which is believed to be a part of the policy of the peculiar religion which they profess, and look into the daily and ordinary habits and the social life of those professing the Mormon faith, and who are esteemed by themselves as well as the world outside, as "burning and shining lights in the adopted faith." Do we find among these greater circumspection of conduct, more elevated aims of actions or a more conscientious adherence to principle and duty, than we do in those making no professions of a saintly character? Now, the doctrine or creed of any church that brings no reformation in heart or life, or that in no way restrains men in the commission of wrong, must be, in some way, defective for these. What, then, will be thought of a system which tolerates profanity, intemperance and dozens of other vices, in those professing it? How disreputable, then, does such conduct become, when practised by those who occupy exalted positions in the Church of Utah. Yet we have known men here, enjoying the title of "Bishop," who indulge in exactly such offences as we have named. Persons have been cut off from the Mormon Church because of their association with "Gentiles," but never for the commission of immoralities, while they professed faith in the Mormon creed, and yielded obedience to Mormon authorities. We are not sure, indeed, that the Mormon creed enjoins anything further than what is embodied in the two latter requirements. We have seldom attended service at the Tabernacle, when we did not hear sentiments inferring the above, or a tirade against the "Gentiles" and disloyalty to the Government. "These discourses in the Tabernacle are, however, suddenly reversed if a distinguished visitor happens to attend."

It is a well known fact, everywhere thoughout the country, that "Gentiles" are excluded from companionship or social intercourse with the families of all good "Saints" residing in these valleys There is nothing that makes a Mormon lose cast with his brethren, or which is more severely reprobated by the church authorities, than the permission of a gentile to associate, on terms of any kind of intimacy or friendship, with his family. Such a thing as Gentiles associating with Mormons here is unknown, and the motive for the exclusiveness which exists is apparent to all. It is the natural result of the system under which they live, and without which they could not exist.

The Sultan of Constantinople puts sentries at the entrance to his harem, to keep off all intruders. High walls serve the purpose here of sentinels, although we have heard of the latter being employed at Brigham's gate.

The Mormon authorities know full well that if their wives and daughters are permitted to mingle with the outer world, they will soon gain a knowledge of their position, and of the respect and attention which women elsewhere command, and their dissatisfaction would eventually lead to revolt.

There are other characteristics of Mormon society, which certainly, to say the least, appear inconsistent. The system of polygamy which they practice and which the Mormon leaders try to uphold by their false teachings and revelations, should be revolting, under any circumstances, to the refined taste of woman. This odious system is not only practiced, but is taught in the Mormon church and countenanced throughout the Territory. We are informed that the second and subsequent Wives are treated at home more like house servants than as any companion to the monster to whom they so thoughtlessly sealed themselves; also, that at any select private party or assemblage, (with few exceptions) none but the first wife accompanies her lord. It is remarkable to us how any woman can endure so marked and palpable an affront to her position, and so gross an insult to her as a wife, without at once and forever severing a relationship that permits it.

Several of the peaceful Red Skins visited Camp yesterday, inquiring anxiously for their "Connor." The title they always give our respected General.

Loss of Life.—It is calculated by the War Department that the loss of life among the Union soldiers in the war of the Rebellion has been not less than 240,000. The loss of life among the rebels will equal these figures.

An Unsolicited Honor.—Brigadier General Hugh Ewing, brother-in-law of General Sherman, and son of old Tom Ewing of Ohio, has been breveted Major General by order of Secretary Stanton. The promotion was without solicitation from any quarter.

Artemus Ward, the great moral exhibitioner, begins one of his programmes as follows: "The music on the grand piano will comprise selections from 'Don Sebastian;' 'Mary has a little Lamb,' (with mint sauce variations); 'Dearest whenst thou slumberest dostest dreamest of me?" 'Dearest Mother I've come Home to Die by request; and the entirely new Opera of 'Faust.'"

Resignations.—Major General N. T. Dana has resigned his commission.

Major G. K. Warren, of the regular army, formerly Major General of Volunteers, is granted thirty days leave of absence.

Major General Rosecrans has been granted six months leave of absence, and proposes to visit the Pacific coast. At the end of that time he will probably resign.

Dispatch from the Indian Country.

The following telegram from Captain Jocelyn at Sweetwater Bridge, a hundred miles or more east of Fort Bridger, on the California—South Pass route, will be read with interest —

Sweetwater Bridge,
10 p. m., 6th July, 1865.

Vedette.—Col. George with escort arrived here to-day. Capt. Mathewson and ten men immediately proceeded to break in line, ten miles below, and repaired it; was through current where line was completed. Indians raising the devil near here; are supposed to be encamped at out twenty miles north; if we can get permission from General Connor, shall go out against them. Capt. Brown's command went out against Sioux with Col. Moonlight, and lost all their horses through neglect of the latter, who has been relieved. Indians made several bold attacks, lately, below. On sunday, attacked a camp of 11th Kansas, near Platte Bridge, some seventy strong, with 150 warriors; fought five hours, and were finally driven off. Jocelyn.

Mormon Toasts Well Buttered.—We give below a few of the toasts read on the "Fourth" at the Bowery, Salt Lake City, to which we append our comments:

"Brigham Young—the greatest Governor on earth; the ruler in the hearts of his people."

That rule will forever damn him and the people be dupes.

"Utah—rich in every resource: pledges of connubial love not excepted."

A huge mass of the latter, one man has to love from one to no matter how many wives.

"Union of States—Union of Nations."

A few months since they were praying for disunion.

"Abraham Lincoln—our great vanguard in the war of rebellion and emancipation, firm, but merciful, just, but kind. He was a true man."

A few months since, he was called by these same Mormon leaders a stinking Black Republican, a d—d old Abolitionist, and if he levied a draft upon Utah for men for the war, they would see him d—d and then they wouldn't send them!

"The Mormons—faithful to God, truth, their country and the Constitution."

Oh! how immensely loyal. How about "Lincoln skins" now-a-days?

Indians near Fort Halleck.—Messrs. Rollins, Tilton and party who arrived yesterday from Denver, inform us that when the stage approached Rock Creek, near Fort Halleck, (400 miles east of here) hostile Indians showed themselves on several bluffs. Presently some soldiers, part of their escort who had been on a scout a few miles off the road, to see how the land laid, galloped up and said that Indians in considerable strength chased their party and killed a couple of their men. The coach went back to the Fort, and afterwards a reinforcment of military and citizens, the latter numbering two hundred immigrants, started after the savages. Soon they saw them five hundred strong, formidably mounted in "line of battle," and daring this party to come up and fight them! Discretion was considered the better part of valor, on the part of the squad of soldiers and this scared crowd of citizens, so they "retired in good order." This was well for them, no doubt; as they would be overpowered by superior numbers of the red devils, thus well armed and equipped.

Eventually a stroug escort was obtained, and the coach came through in safety. The treachery and base ingratitude of Indian character will appear afresh, when it is remembered that these five hundred Arapahoes (with some Cheyennes and Sioux,) are the self-same traitors who came into Fort Halleck four or five months since, saying they were good, peace-loving Indians, and surrendered—for the season, to be fed from Uncle Sam's commissary at the Fort. Indeed, it is stated, that this same savage crowd drew their rations at the Post the morning previous to their leaving for the field! Vigorous efforts are being made to put a force of military there and all along that route, to protect the mails and travel—so soon as horseflesh can transport them from Julesburg and Fort Laramie.

At a meeting of the locators of claims in the Snake Valley Mining District, Beaver county, Utah Territory, and of the Parawan Mining District, Millard county, Utah Territory, held at Fort Bridger, U. T., March 13th, 1865, pursuant to notice duly published as prescribed by the Laws of said district. George W. Chamberlain was called to the chair, and Henry Wilson was chosen Secretary.

The Chairman then stated that the object of the meeting was to revise and amend Art. 5th of the Laws of the said district, for the better protection of the interests of the locators of mining claims therein.

The Chair then appointed a Committee of three to consider the matter, who, after deliberation, presented the following amendment and recommended its adoption.

The meeting considered the matter, and on motion of Mr. L'hommedue, the the following was adopted, in lieu of the original, as Article 5th of the By-Laws of said Districts. Article 5th, as amended: In each location as prescribed, there shall be done fifty dollars worth of work within six months from this date, or from the date of location thereof. Each individual claimant paying or working his pro rata amount of the requisite fifty dollars; or, upon failure to do so, his claims shall be subject to re-location. When the said amount of fifty dollars worth of work shall have been done, the Recorder shall grant certificates of real estate or realty to each claimant who has complied with the Laws. He shall also, upon application, grant said certificates to the owners of all claims upon which the requisite amount of work has already been done. Provided, however, that, should the claimant be prevented from working by local insurrection or rebellion, their claims shall not be forfeited; and provided, further, that no claim belonging to a soldier shall be subject to re-location until after six months shall have elapsed after his discharge from the service of the United States, unless he shall sign an agreement or "Articles of Incorporation" to the contrary.

The Chair then declared the meeting adjourned sine die.

GEORGE W. CHAMBERLAIN,
President.

Henry Wilson, Secretary.

Strength of the Sioux and Cheynnes

The following, from official sources, is believed to be the strength and "range" of the bands of the above hostile tribes, against whom General Connor will have to opperate, this season:

The Min-nie-ka-jos have 250 lodges, and range in the Cheyenne river and Bear Butte country.

The Unk-pa-pa have 200 lodges and range on Tongue river, Cheyenne river and Bear Butte.

The Blackfeet have 170 lodges, and range en Ma Reaux river and Bear Butte.

The Ta-zip-chu have 140 lodges, and range on Cheyenne river, Tongue river and Bear Buttes.

The Two Kettle Band have 120 lodges, and range on Pouder river, Tongue river and Bear Butte.

"The Bands that don't eat Dog" have 120 lodges, and range on Cheyenne river, Tongue river and Bear Butte.

The Northern Brule have 150 lodges, and range on Pumpkin Butte and Dead Man's Fork.

The Northern O-ga lal-la have 340 lodges, and range on Pumpkin Butte, Dead Man's Fork and Cheynne river.

Note—The following Indians have recently moved from the South (between Platte and Arkansas rivers) and joined those enumerated above:

The Southern Cheyennes have 400 lodges; the Southern Brule (Sioux) have 180 lodges; the Southern O-ga-lal-las (Sioux) have 150 lodges, and all range on Pumpkin Butte, Dead Man's Fork, Cheyenne river, &c.

The following bands of Cheyennes and A-rap-pa-hos are "cut-offs" from the Southern tribes, and not enumerated above:

The Northern Cheyennes have 160 lodges, and range on Pouder river.

The Northern Arrappahoes have 60 lodges, and range on Ponder river.

The total number of lodges is 2,420.

The Sioux, here estimated, all properly belong south of the Missouri river, and are not those that General Sully fought last summer. Counting three warriors to the lodge, which is a small estimate, we have 7,268 fighting men, well armed and mounted. The Cheyennes will average twenty-five good horses to the lodge, and the Northern Sioux about fifteen. Three forths of the Indians are armed with good rifles, and all of them carry a bow with from forty to one hundred arrows, which can be shot with more precision and as much force as a revolver. About one-half of the Cheyenne warriors have good revolvers, traded from emigrants before the Indian war.

The Sioux, Cheyennes, and a portion of the Arrapahoes are collected on the Pouder and Cheyenne rivers, and in the Black Hills, north and northeast of Fort Laramie, and on the old Emigrant Route to Utah and California.

It has been wisely said, that he who waits to do a great deal of good at once will never do anything. Life is made up of small things. It is but once in an age that occasion is offered for doing a great deed. True greatness consists in being great in little things. How are railroads built? By one shovel full at a time. Thus drops make the ocean. Hence, we should be willing to do a little good at a time, and never wait to do a great deal at once. If we would do much good in the world, we must be willing to do good in little things, little acts one after another.

Matrimony generally puts a happy couple through a course of sprouts.

WE were yesterday shown some very rich specimens of gold and silver quartz, by Mr. W. R. Davies, of Owyhee county, Idaho. He is taking them to his friends in the States, where he intends operating to bring the Boise country into deserved note as a rich mining region. HON. Mr. Ashley and Col. Frothingham, paid a visit to the VEDETTE office on Thursday last. These distinguished gentleman expressed themselves as highly pleased with the pioneer Newspaper of Utah. Mr. Ashley good humoredly remarked, that he was a practical printer, having served in the several grades of the art, from "devil" up to "typo." The visitors afterward repaired to Camp and witnessed Dress Parade. Mr. Havemeyer also honored us with a call on Thursday.

"INTEMPERANCE."—This article, on first page, from the Denver News, by mistake was not "credited" at the time.

THE action of the Fourth of July Committee, in San Francisco, in extending to the negroes an invitation to take part in the procession, caused considerable dissatisfaction. Some associations that prepared to take part, refused to turn out.

Charles G. Halpine, ("Miles O'Riley,") has assumed the editorial quill of the Citizen, a New York Weekly, heretofore devoted to the local affairs of the city—hereafter to be devoted to all the fun, the wit, sense, and sentiment which Private Miles can extract from the unfolding panorama of the world.

THERE is a Methodist preacher down East whose praise is thus sounded by a cotemporary: "I have repeatedly heard the most famous men in America, but there are times when the flame of his pathos licks the everlasting hills with a roar that moves your soul to depths fathomed by few other men!"

MARRIED.—Recently, at the residence of the bride's father, Clinton, N. Y., Geo. W. Kassler, Esq., merchant of Denver City, to Miss Maria T. Stebbins. Also, married recently, Hon. J. T. Lynch, of Colorado, to Miss Belle Dickson of Black City. Brothers Hollister, Brown & Co. we sympathise with ye, in your condi tions "sad and lonely."

AMOUNT OF GOLD SENT EAST.—Through the courtesy of Jo. S. Roberson, Agent of the Overland Stage Line here, we were enabled to foot up the amounts of gold dust sent east through his office, per Overland Express, for the year ending July 1st. Of course it is not quarter of the sum sent on by private passengers—on the sly. The amount, referred to, was just $1,541,514.09, in gold dust.

AN OPINION.—The San Francisco News Letter of June 24th, says, in its leading article, that "while the great body of the people of California outrank those of any other State of the American Union in point of general intelligence, there is no single State in which the mental calibre of public men is so low and contemptible." That may be true, but it is very severe on the public men, and had it not been severe, the News Letter would not have published it.

WHAT few boys they raise here are some of 'em pretty sharp. Snid a gay and festive chap who was "skylarking' around a couple of evenings since, to a little, innocent looking urchin that he chanced to meet where least expected—"Ha! good evening Johnnie; it's pretty moony this evening." "Yes," naively replied the spieing codger, "a most too moony for your business!" The "gal-avanting" gent sloped on, instanter.

A Mrs. Young, daughter-in-law No. 3, of Brigham's, (once upon a time,) was taken into custody the other day for obtaining goods under false pretences—or rather selling them clandestinely after buying them on credit. She passed under the name of Mrs. Dilworth, opened a boarding house, bust up and sloped as far as Sacramento before she was found out. The madame had better come back to her first love—Zion on the tops of the mountains. This occurred at San Francisco.

ABOUT BILLIARDS.—A gentleman concluded after perusing a new book by Phelan and Berger, that there are but two things a man can do to insure himself any sort of pleasure or position in life: 1st, purchase one of Phelan's tables; 2nd, become a scientific performer thereon. Whatever may be thought of other pursuits, of commerce, science, art, or petroleum, the proper study of mankind is billiards, and without it, none may accomplish his destiny, or his duties to society and his family—as he thinks!

A GOOD IDEA.—The Philadelphia Ledger suggests, as a speedy means of re-construction, that the rebels turn their attention to honest employment. The Southern people need all the crops that can be raised. Industriously employed, they will have no time to brood over their defeats or their disappointments, and will again realize the advantages of industry to individual prosperity, as well as that of the State. This is the way to give the Government the best assurance that they intend to settle down into good, peaceable citizens, which is all the Government asks them to be.

ARRIVED FROM THE EAST.—By yesterday morning's mail coach, Messrs. J. Q. A. Rollins, Jesse F. Taylor, and Geo. S. Kennedy, merchants and men of enterprise from Denver, Colorado. They go up to Montana. Also, by same coach, Chas. E. Tilton, of the well known house of A. E. & C. E. Tilton, New York, Denver, San Francisco, etc., and Lucius Gould Esq., from the east. With this distinguished coachfull came also Demas Barnes, of New York city, the veritable proprietor and manufacturer of ye famous "Drake's Plantation Bitters." He will meet with many spiritual compliments from the merchants and the masses of Montana, and elsewhere through the west. His "photo" on the outer walls of the log-cabin fashioned bottles, is, literally, true to life. His beverage has acquired a fame and is a favorite the the country over. The phrase has been—"Throw physic to the dogs; I'll none of it.—Hand out Plantation Bitters!"

Twenty cents " " " $1,000 "
One Dollar " " " " $5,000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7 3-10th in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency on to July 15th, at the time when the subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the seven thirties will commence on the first of June, and will be made promptly and continously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency. This is

The only Loan in the MARKET.

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the Great popular Loan of the People.

Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within sixty days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of country may be offered facilities for taking the Loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which the receive orders.

ALL SORTS OF ITEMS.

"Spring has fled, the bee collects her sweets,
From every shrub and flower she meets,
What fresh many a source we drew
We give, tho' not the whole as new."

Gradation.

A sparrow caught upon a tree
The plumpest fly; all, all unheeded
Were struggles, cries, and agony,
As for life the victim pleaded;
"Nay," quoth the sparrow, "you must die,
For you are not so strong as I."

A hawk surprised him at his meal,
And in a trice poor sparrow spitted;
In vain he gasped his last appeal—
"What crime, Sir Hawk, have I committed?"
"Peace!" quoth the captor, "you must die,
For you are not so strong as I."

Down swooped an eagle who had spied
With grim delight, the state of matters;
"Release me, king," the victim cried,
"Nor tear my very flesh to tatters!"
"Nay," quoth the eagle, "you must die,
For you are not so strong as I."

A bullet whistled at the word,
And struck him ere his feast was ended;
"A tyrant I!" shrieked the dying bird,
"To murder him who ne'er offended!"
"Oh!" quoth the sportsman, "you must die,
For you are not so strong as I."

WHEN a lady is called on by a ghost, she generally receives her visiter Paris fashion—in bed.

THE poets talk much about "dream-music." The only kind we ever heard was a snore.

A bad cold, like a murderer's conscience, often comes upon us about midnight, and vexes us for many hours.

SNAKES are things that we at once loathe and long to look upon as the old enemies and tempters of our race.

SOME ladies wear rings on their fore fingers; others on their five fingers—thumbs excepted.

A bachelor shoemaker says that an old maid is like an old boot—of no use without a fellow.

IT is well to contract debts. If they are of huge dimensions, contract them as much as possible.

DON'T marry a soldier. You may fancy that it will be all love and May, but it will probably be love and March.

IF a German doesn't see as clearly as other people, it is because he has generally a thick smoke before his eyes.

IMAGINATION is a good blood mare; but the misfortune is, she has too many paths before her.

SINCERITY, or what claims the name, is always ready to peak up its obnoxious sentiments, unasked, into your notice, as Midas would his ears into your face, uncalled for.

MANY a military officer is so fond of fighting and making love, that he seems to be, like the ancient Harmonia, the offspring of Mars and Venus.

WOMEN and children may not make a very good impression at first, but the man who has to furnish them with clothes and shoes thinks that they wear wonderfully.

MANY a brave soldier who has often marched up undaunted to the cannon's mouth, would shrink appalled before the mouth of an angry woman.

FOUR years ago the London Times wrote, "The Great Republic is dead." Wonder what the Times thinks to-day! Rather a lively corpse, eh?
